

LPCC Licensure

We have received questions from alumni inquiring about our curriculum plans in regards to the upcoming gap examination for the LPCC license. Grandfathering eligibility for the gap exam requires the additional completion of a 3 unit course in Career Development Theories and Techniques. After a thorough reading of the application and consulting with CAMFT we have determined that the course must be offered as a graduate level course and not as a CEU. Since it is being widely offered at other institutions at a lower cost than LMU would be able to list the course, we will not be developing this additional training at this time.
